PERSONAL MENTION

Frank Weiden, extra passenger conductor on the Pendleton-Portland division of the O. R. & N., is on the run for a few days.

V. G. Willson, state deputy for the Order of Washington, is in Pendleton today from Portland for the purpose of casting his vote.

William Connolly, air brake inspector for the O. R. & N., with headquarters at La Grande, is in the city today on a tour of inspection of the lines.

A. Lang, who has just returned from a trip to Portland and vicinity, is well pleased with the country, and may decide to locate there in the near future.

Fred Raymond and family, of Helix, have gone to the Puget Sound cities on an extended trip, for the benefit of their daughter Jessie's health. Miss Raymond is one of the 1905 graduating class of the high school.

W. M. Goodnight, a prominent farmer living 12 miles west of Pendleton, is in the city today, making arrangements for his winter supplies. He says the ground is in fairly good condition for seeding in that district, and that farmers are taking advantage of the good weather to do their seeding.

Mrs. F. A. Campbell, who left here a short time ago, for California, in search of a milder climate, has located at Redlands, where she will remain for the winter at least, and perhaps permanently. She writes that she is delighted with her new home and sends greetings through the East Oregonian to her host of friends here.

T. H. Crawford, of Union, one of the democratic candidates for presidential elector, is in the city attending the session of supreme court. Mr. Crawford is the oldest practicing attorney in Union county and enjoys a large acquaintance over the state. His son, Clarence, who recently graduated from Stanford, is now associated with him.

CAUGHT HER TRAIN.

Plucky Athena Girl Makes a Record Run.

Determination, plenty of Western grit and an obliging switch engineer, was all that Miss Edith McBride of Athena, required to overtake a passenger train Sunday morning. Miss McBride had been visiting in this city Saturday night, and came to the depot Sunday morning to return home. But when she reached the station, her train was a thousand yards down the track and rapidly increasing the distance.

Miss McBride knew that it was customary for the train to stop for a minute at the junction, a mile from the station, and she started in pursuit. But the chase appeared hopeless from the standpoint of a pedestrian, and the young woman had given up in despair when the switchman came to her rescue. He backed his engine to where the girl stood, took up Miss McBride and her suit case and the race for the passenger train was on. Wheeling and puffing, the antiquated old switch engine rolled and rattled after the speedy express. Steam squirted from its sides, the fireman heaped on the fuel and the engineer threw wide open the throttle.

The crowd of half a hundred spectators on the station platform saw the old shunter gain on the engine ahead. It was like viewing a horse race from afar with every one with his money on the long shot.

A faint toot came from around the curve. The crowd at the depot stood in breathless expectation. In a second the nose of the panting switch engine appeared around the bend on its way back to the yards and Miss McBride was not aboard. A shout went up from the spectators; long shot had won.

TEN O'CLOCK EDITION.

The East Oregonian will issue a 10 o'clock edition tonight containing all the latest Hearst bulletins up to that time. Ten o'clock in Pendleton is equal to 1 a. m. in New York City, and by that time the result can be forecasted and will be given in the Hearst dispatches.

George Strand Injured.

George Strand, captain of the Pendleton high school football team, was seriously injured in the game between Whitman and the high school teams at 4 o'clock. At that time the score stood 6 to 9 in favor of Pendleton at the middle of the second half.

Woodpecker's Savings Bank.

Among the woodpeckers of California, there is one kind, popularly called the carpenter which is of such careful habits that many a friendly society might take a lesson from it. Although the winter is not very severe, the bird well knows how hard it will be then to obtain food. So it begins early to lay by for the frosty day. It stuffs the holes of trees with acorns and it is artful enough to choose those that contain the larvae of insects. The larva thrives on the fruit and in the course of time becomes a fattened tit-bit for the bird. Pine trees, on which acorns do not grow, have often been seen dotted or plugged all over with them.

HAPPY WOMEN.

Plenty of Them in Pendleton and Good Reason for It.

Wouldn't any woman be happy After years of backache suffering, Days of misery, nights of unrest, The distress of urinary troubles, She finds relief and cure?

No reason why any Pendleton reader

Should suffer in the face of evidence like this: Mrs. Fred Noble, who lives at 219 Cosbie street, says: "I was troubled for three or four years with my back and kidneys, and was oppressed with a tired feeling all the time. My back commenced to ache whenever I did the least amount of work around the house that compelled me to lift anything or stoop over. The kidneys were irregular and annoyed me, especially if I caught cold. I felt sleepy or drowsy all the time. I used many different medicines, some of which helped me, and some of which did not. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills so highly recommended that I went to the Brock & McComas drug store and got a box. They helped me from the first and did me more good than anything of the kind I had ever used. I am feeling better since the treatment than I had in a long, long time before, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents per box. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
